

DRIVADAN design, supply, install and service all types of heating systems within the greenhouse industry. Our experienced heating technicians are competent sparring partners planning new heating installations as well as renovation of older heating installations.

Our heating systems are designed based on local climate conditions and customer requirements.

DRIVADAN heating installations incorporates following:

- Complete boiler rooms incl. boiler, heat exchanger, expansion tank, water treatment, pressure regulated pump stations etc.
- Steam boiler systems, low pressure boiler systems as well as waste heat systems.
- Fuel and heavy fuel oil burners, gas burners and coal systems.
- Heating systems for pot plants growers, tomato growers, cucumber growers and cut flower growers.
- Optimizing of heating installations by own technicians.

DRIVADAN ...a professional heating partner

Distribution with Tichelmann system

Mixing stations placed over path

Heating for container systems

Heating for roller bench installations

Greenhouse vegetable heating